About KSA and Company

KSA and Company is a prominent name in the frozen seafood industry. Established in 1997, the company has come a long way from being a smalltime fisherman to a reputable exporter of frozen seafood. The company's main goal is to provide high-quality seafood products to customers across the globe.

One of the key strengths of KSA and Company is its direct links with fishermen. The company has more than 20 boats of its own, which it uses to catch fish and seafood. This means that the company does not have to rely on middlemen to collect raw fish, which ensures that the products are fresh and of the highest quality. The company's fishermen are trained to catch fish sustainably, which helps to protect marine life.

KSA and Company specializes in catching octopus and cuttlefish. These are delicate seafood products that require careful handling to ensure that they remain fresh and flavorful. The company has invested in modern fishing technology and equipment, which enables its fishermen to catch these seafood products without damaging them.

Another key strength of KSA and Company is its one-day hook catch products. The company's fishermen use hooks instead of nets to catch fish, which reduces the chances of the fish being damaged. The fish are caught and immediately processed on board the boats, which ensures that they are fresh and of the highest quality. This also reduces the time it takes for the fish to reach customers, which further ensures their freshness.

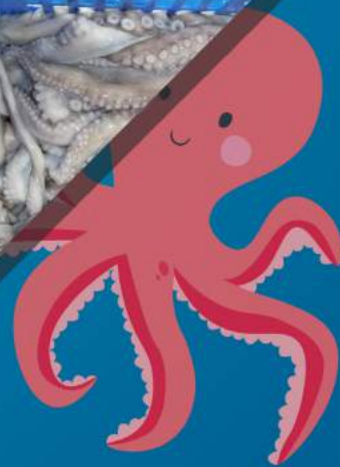

KSA and Company has also invested in obtaining various certifications to ensure that its products meet international quality standards. The company has certifications in ISO, HACCP, and FSSAI, which are recognized worldwide. These certifications ensure that the products are safe to consume, and that they meet high standards of quality and hygiene.

The company exports a wide range of seafood products, including octopus big, pomfret, sand lobster, sterling fish, baby octopus, cuttlefish whole and whole cleaned, anchovy, needle fish, emperor, crab, otti, parrot fish, red mullet, sooparai, wolf herring, sardine , ladys finger fish, small barracuda, and kari meen. These products are frozen using advanced freezing technology, which preserves their flavor and texture. The company uses state-of-the-art packaging technology to ensure that the products are delivered to customers in perfect condition.

KSA and Company's commitment to quality and sustainability has earned it a reputation as a reliable supplier of high-quality seafood products. The company's direct links with fishermen, use of modern fishing technology, and certifications in international quality standards are key factors that have contributed to its success. With a focus on quality and sustainability, KSA and Company is well-positioned to continue providing customers with the best frozen seafood products for years to come.

Processing

we utilize the latest freezing technologies to preserve the freshness and quality of our seafood products.

we use only RO filtered water for processing and cleaning. We also use the latest freezing technologies, including plate freezing and blast freezing, to preserve the quality of our products. Upon receiving the fish, we immediately gut and immerse it in an ice slurry to bring down the temperature to near freezing, followed by storage in flake ice.
